

Mountain Mayhem – announcement

Weldtite are pleased to announce their involvement with the Original Source Mountain Mayhem event for 2009 as a supporting partner. As the official tools and inflator sponsor to the event, Weldtite will be present to promote and offer advice on their product range of tools and inflators. The event has a reputation for being tough on both rider and machine, and Weldtite will be present to offer the tools for the rider to use to maintain their machines in race ready conditions from its newly launched Cyclo tools range.

“Weldtite is a truly British brand and to be involved in a truly British event such as Original Source Mountain Mayhem, is a great opportunity for us with synergy” – James Milnes, Sales Manager.
